

A ONE-ACT PLAY FOR CHRISTMAS

SCRUPT & COVER ART © 2009 DAVID S. LAMPEL. ALL RIGHTS RESERVES

PRODUCTION NOTES

This one-act, An Impossible Life, is the non-musical version of our musical resource, Glorious Impossible.

Scene divisions are included for rehearsal purposes, and do not represent pauses or black-outs in performance. Though divided into five scenes, this production should appear to the audience as a seamless one-act.

Costumes

Costumes for both John and Naomi should reflect their location and status. That is, they are living on a rough-and-tumble island. Naomi is without a husband, and survives only by renting rooms to people like John. Hers is a hard life. She should look she has just been interrupted while cleaning floors. The apostle John is not so much impoverished (although he might be), but is extremely old and cares nothing about how he looks. His appearance should be disheveled, his clothing old and well-worn.

PROPS AND SET

Except for the Necessary Props listed just below, the following items, descriptions and photographs are included as examples only for your production, showing how we did it for the inaugural production..

Necessary Props: a wooden writing stylus (can be made from a slender dowel) and small rolled parchment for John.

Suggested Props and Set Pieces

- a rag for Naomi to enter with and wipe her hands on
- small crude table
- small crude stool (next to table)
- various items on table: rolls of parchment, inkpot, jar of water, crude cups for drinking
- box and/or large basket for John to rummage through
- walking stick leaning against wall

Entire set. The church in which this musical was first produced does not have a "backstage" to the platform, so by erecting a partition screening the corner we created both a backstage and an interior "wall" for John's room. We entered and exited through the burgundy curtain.

Detail of parchment rolls and stylus. Begin with standard parchment paper, tear edges into an irregular pattern. then wipe on wood stain. It does not soak in, and takes several days before it is sufficiently dry to handle, but works well for an aged look. For the stylus we began with a quarter-inch dowel, then used black paint to simulate ink. (The parchment prop for John was a smaller version of these.)

Detail of table. The table was constructed from tree limbs and rough-sawed oak planks. Parchment scrolls were made from standard (baking) parchment paper stained to show age and wear.

| 5 | Narrator |
| 6 | The glory and joy of Christmas is with us once again. It is a time for |
| 7 | bright lights, cheerful decorations, fresh-cut evergreens, and warm |
| 8 | gatherings of families and friends. It is also, more than anything else, |
| 9 | time for the family of God to celebrate the moment, so long ago, wher |
| 10 | the Son came down to be born in flesh. It is time to celebrate Jesus — |
| 11 | and what seems to many to be His impossible birth. |
| 12 | |
| 13 | Lights begin to slowly rise on drama set. |
| 14 | |
| 15 | Narrator |
| 16 | One person who has remained skeptical about the things of God is |
| 17 | Naomi, who runs the house where the aged apostle John rents a room |
| 18 | The tiny island of Patmos—to which John has been exiled—is where |
| 19 | they live, and the absentminded apostle and his feisty landlady mix it |
| 20 | up on an almost daily basis. |
| 21 | |
| 22 | One day, however, Naomi presents John with an opportunity to tell |
| 23 | her the story about an impossible birth that happened so long ago in |
| 24 | the town of Bethlehem—and the miraculous life that followed. |

| The Place: The island of Patmos |

| Enter John, the aged apostle. Though he has the appearance of |
| advanced years, he is energetic. His mind is quick, yet unreliab |
| His memory is embarrassingly short, and he keeps forgetting |
| where he left things. |
| As he enters, he is frantically searching for something amid the |
| folds of his disheveled garments and his room. There is a wood |
| stylus tucked behind his ear, and a small scroll stuffed into his b |
| John |
| (as he moves about his room looking for something) |
| That woman will be the end of me yet! Where did she put it this |
| time? How am I to get anything done! |
| (stopping; looking around; impatiently) |
| A man has only so many years—and I've already overstayed my |
| welcome. |
| (frustrated; with a growling crescendo) |
| Na—o—mi! |
| (waiting; now louder, sharper) |
| Naomi! |
| |
| Enter Naomi, a woman of middle years. She is wiping her wet |
| hands on her apron. |
| |
| Naomi |
| (irritably) |
| What is it now, John? |
| |
| |
| |

| 1 | John |
|----|---|
| 2 | (darkly patient) |
| 3 | One would imagine that upon payment for one's room, one could have |
| 4 | reasonable expectation of privacy—that one's landlady would respect |
| 5 | one's possessions during her in frequent cleanings. |
| 6 | |
| 7 | Naomi |
| 8 | So now it's my cleaning. |
| 9 | |
| 10 | John |
| 11 | (sharply) |
| 12 | Don't change the subject. |
| 13 | |
| 14 | Naomi |
| 15 | (she's been here before) |
| 16 | Whatever it is you can't find—I didn't touch it. |
| 17 | |
| 18 | John |
| 19 | A-ha! So you admit it. |
| 20 | |
| 21 | Naomi |
| 22 | No wonder they threw you out of your last place. |
| 23 | |
| 24 | John |
| 25 | (after a beat; stiffly) |
| 26 | That charge was never proven. |
| 27 | |
| 28 | Naomi |
| 29 | And to think I took pity on you |
| 30 | • • |
| 31 | John (; , , 1) |
| 32 | (simply) |
| 33 | I just want to know where you put it. |
| 34 | |

| 1 | Naomi |
|----|--|
| 2 | (beginning simply, then with greater intensity the next two lines) |
| 3 | What? |
| 4 | |
| 5 | John |
| 6 | I can't get any work done without it. |
| 7 | |
| 8 | Naomi |
| 9 | What? |
| 10 | |
| 11 | John |
| 12 | I won't hold it against you. Just tell me where. |
| 13 | |
| 14 | Naomi |
| 15 | What?! |
| 16 | |
| 17 | John |
| 18 | (suddenly forgetting what he was talking about; flatly) |
| 19 | What. |
| 20 | |
| 21 | Naomi |
| 22 | (after a long sigh; as if speaking to a child; rhythmically) |
| 23 | Tell me what you were doing when you couldn't find it. |
| 24 | |
| 25 | John |
| 26 | (thinking) |
| 27 | Writing. I need to finish my letter. |
| 28 | (pause; irritably) |
| 29 | Stylus. Can't find my stylus. |
| 30 | |
| 31 | Naomi, with a sigh, removes the stylus from John's ear and hand |
| 32 | it to him. |
| 33 | |
| 34 | |
| 35 | |

|----|---|
| 2 | (staring at the stylus in his hand) |
| 3 | Who put that there? |
| 4 | (moving toward his table) |
| 5 | Now all I need is my parchment. Where is it? |
| 6 | (looking around; angrily) |
| 7 | What have you done with my parchment?! |
| 8 | |
| 9 | Naomi, with an even heavier sigh, removes the scroll from John's |
| 10 | belt and hands it to him. |
| 11 | |
| 12 | Naomi |
| 13 | You're impossible. |
| 14 | |
| 15 | Naomi turns to leave, but the word "impossible" catches John by |
| 16 | surprise. He stops her with his question. |
| 17 | |
| 18 | John |
| 19 | (intrigued) |
| 20 | What did you say? |
| 21 | |
| 22 | Naomi |
| 23 | (returning; expecting that John is picking a fight; suspiciously) |
| 24 | I said you're impossible. |
| 25 | |
| 26 | Slowly a smile spreads across the apostle's face. |
| 27 | |
| 28 | John |
| 29 | Now, I may be troublesome, but— |
| 30 | (a thought occurs) |
| 31 | I know of something truly impossible. |
| 32 | |
| 33 | Naomi |
| 34 | (rolling her eyes) |
| 35 | Here we go again. |

|----|---|
| 2 | (inviting/ordering) |
| 3 | Sit down. |
| 4 | |
| 5 | Naomi |
| 6 | (shaking her head "no") |
| 7 | I've got floors to sweep, dinner to fix— |
| 8 | |
| 9 | John |
| 10 | (firm) |
| 11 | I promise not to complain about your dirty floors. |
| 12 | |
| 13 | Naomi slowly sits, eyeing John warily. |
| 14 | |
| 15 | John |
| 16 | I'd like to tell you a story about a most remarkable life—in fact, some |
| 17 | might call it an impossible life. |
| 18 | (pause; choosing his words carefully) |
| 19 | Once upon a time, long ago, a baby came into the world. This baby |
| 20 | should not have been. His birth was an impossibility. For the husband |
| 21 | was not the father, and the mother had never known a man. |
| 22 | |
| 23 | Naomi |
| 24 | Ah, another one of your fables. |
| 25 | |
| 26 | John |
| 27 | My dear I have never told you fables—only remarkables. |
| 28 | |
| 29 | Naomi |
| 30 | (skeptically) |
| 31 | Uh-huh. |
| 32 | |
| 33 | John |
| 34 | Now this baby had a most extraordinary birth. He was born the lowest |
| 35 | of the low, in a filthy cave. Those sharing His nursery were not other |

| 1 | children, but the beasts of the field, and his tiny nostrils were first |
|----|--|
| 2 | filled with their earthy aroma. |
| 3 | (beat) |
| 4 | But, this lowly birth was heralded by the heavens! No less than angels |
| 5 | from God announced it. |
| 6 | |
| 7 | Naomi |
| 8 | (rising; dismissively) |
| 9 | I don't have time for this. |
| 10 | |
| 11 | John |
| 12 | (warmly sincere) |
| 13 | But you must make time, Naomi. |
| 14 | |
| 15 | Naomi |
| 16 | Your tales are fine for amusing children, or for after-meal |
| 17 | entertainment. But they have nothing to say to me. |
| 18 | (beat) |
| 19 | I live in the real world, John. |
| 20 | |
| 21 | John |
| 22 | How odd that you should say that. For, my dear, this story is especially |
| 23 | for those in the real world. |
| 24 | (beat) |
| 25 | It is at once rooted in the muck and mire of this world—and |
| 26 | illumined by the very word of God. |
| 27 | |
| 28 | Naomi |
| 29 | (sneering) |
| 30 | What does your God know of the muck of this world? |
| 31 | |
| 32 | John |
| 33 | Why, everything. He made it—and He came to live in it. |
| 34 | |
| 35 | |

| 1 | Scene Two |
|----|--|
| 2 | |
| 3 | Naomi |
| 4 | (irritated) |
| 5 | I have respected your beliefs, John—no matter how ridiculous they |
| 6 | seem. But you are now playing me for a fool. |
| 7 | |
| 8 | John |
| 9 | (protesting his innocence) |
| 10 | I would not— |
| 11 | |
| 12 | Naomi |
| 13 | (interrupting) |
| 14 | You expect me to believe that this God of yours—the one you claim |
| 15 | created everything of this earth—actually came here—and as a baby. |
| 16 | (beat; sharply) |
| 17 | What do you take me for? |
| 18 | |
| 19 | John |
| 20 | I told you it was impossible. But I also tell you it is true. |
| 21 | (pause) |
| 22 | It was in Bethlehem—a town just south of Jerusalem—about, oh, one |
| 23 | hundred years ago, I'd say. King Herod had ordered a census, and since |
| 24 | both the mother and Joseph were of the house of David, they traveled |
| 25 | to this city to be registered. There the child was born in a stable just |
| 26 | outside of town, when the innkeeper was unable to put them up. |
| 27 | |
| 28 | Naomi |
| 29 | (sarcastically) |
| 30 | Couldn't God have arranged better accommodations? |
| 31 | |
| 32 | John |
| 33 | (darkly) |
| 34 | I thought you respected my beliefs. |
| 35 | |

| 1 | Naomi |
|----|---|
| 2 | You're pushing it this time. |
| 3 | |
| 4 | John |
| 5 | No one knew of the birth. So God—all according to plan—sent His |
| 6 | messengers to get the word out to a few special people. |
| 7 | |
| 8 | Naomi |
| 9 | (attempting to complete his thoughts; knowingly) |
| 10 | The city leaders. Perhaps soldiers. |
| 11 | |
| 12 | John |
| 13 | (anticipating her sharp reply; wincingly) |
| 14 | Uh, shepherds. |
| 15 | |
| 16 | Naomi |
| 17 | (exploding) |
| 18 | Now there you go again. Why in the world would God have wasted |
| 19 | the news on shepherds? |
| 20 | |
| 21 | John |
| 22 | (defensively) |
| 23 | And why would God have "wasted" His good news on fishermen, and |
| 24 | farmers, and a tax collector? |
| 25 | (pause; calming down) |
| 26 | If I have learned anything in my many years, it is that God plays by |
| 27 | His own rules. He has repeatedly channeled His grace through the |
| 28 | lowly, through those who move invisibly through society. So His Son |
| 29 | was given birth in the close stench of a stable, and He announced the |
| 30 | arrival of our salvation first to poor shepherds. |
| 31 | |
| 32 | |
| 33 | |
| 34 | |
| 35 | |

| 1 | Scene Three |
|----------|--|
| 2 | |
| 3 | Naomi |
| 4 | (suspiciously) |
| 5 | What do you mean, "salvation"? |
| 6 | |
| 7 | John |
| 8 | Why do you think God sent His Son? |
| 9 | |
| 10 | Naomi |
| 11 | How would I know. None of it makes sense. Even if your God is real, |
| 12 | why would He bother? What's the point of it all? |
| 13 | |
| 14 | John |
| 15 | (after some thought) |
| 16 | Mercy. Love. |
| 17 | |
| 18 | Naomi |
| 19 | (snorting derisively) |
| 20 | Love. Don't speak to me of love. A worthless commodity. |
| 21 | (reciting a well-worn, painful memory) |
| 22 | I thought I loved my husband. Worse, I thought he loved me. And to |
| 23 | what end. Now he is gone, and I must take in boarders to stay alive. |
| 24 | (darkly) |
| 25 | Don't speak to me of love. Love brings only sorrow—and pain. |
| 26 | T 1 |
| 27 | John |
| 28 | (somberly) |
| 29 | I can't argue with that, Naomi. God's love for man certainly brought |
| 30 | unthinkable pain—to Himself. |
| 31 32 | Naomi |
| 33 | So why would He love us? |
| 34 | 30 with would lie love us: |
| 35 | |

| 1 | John |
|-----|--|
| 2 | (quickly) |
| 3 | Ah, that is a question for the ages. |
| 4 | (after some thought) |
| 5 | For His own reasons, God chose to love His creation. But it was an |
| 6 | unrequited love. We did not love Him back. Even when we tried, it |
| 7 | came out dark, insubstantial, even perverse. As we were, we were |
| 8 | incapable of responding to His love. |
| 9 | (pause) |
| 10 | So God supplied it Himself. |
| 11 | |
| 12 | Naomi |
| 13 | (confused) |
| 14 | Supplied what? |
| 15 | |
| 16 | John |
| 17 | (emphatically) |
| 18 | That is why He sent His Son. That impossible birth, so long ago, was |
| 19 | God's answer to the impossibly wide gulf that separated us from Him |
| 20 | |
| 21 | Naomi |
| 22 | (mildly incredulous) |
| 23 | That baby. |
| 24 | |
| 25 | John |
| 26 | And the man He became. |
| 27 | |
| 28 | |
| 29 | |
| 30 | |
| 31 | |

| Scene Four |
|--|
| John |
| (conversationally) |
| The family didn't stay in Bethlehem, but settled in Nazareth, where the |
| boy learned Joseph's trade: carpentry. But from His earliest days, He |
| revealed that He was more than mere flesh. Why even when they— |
| |
| Naomi |
| (interrupting; exploding) |
| That's enough! How stupid do you think I am? |
| (beat) |
| Make up your mind: was he man or was he god? Pick one! |
| (disgusted, and impatient with John's silence) |
| Oh, I've had enough of your tall tales. |
| |
| John |
| (urgently; firmly) |
| Naomi, I have never told you fables—and I am not now! |
| (regrouping) |
| Wrapped inside that tiny child was the fullness of God! And His |
| impossible birth was just the beginning of a life like no other. |
| |
| Naomi |
| You can say that again. |
| (rapidly) |
| I don't even think it was a life like his . I don't think it was a life at all. |
| (beat) |
| I think old age is clouding your mind, making you believe your own |
| lies. |
| |
| John |
| (thoughtfully) |
| No, Naomi. You are forgetting that if I am an old man, it means I was |
| there. It means I heard it all from His own lips, saw it all with my own |

| 1 | eyes. I am not telling you a story handed down to me—something I |
|----|--|
| 2 | read somewhere. I am telling you what I have already lived! |
| 3 | (pause) |
| 4 | He called me out of a fishing boat. I left the work of my earthly |
| 5 | father to serve the Son of my heavenly Father. I was there from the |
| 6 | beginning. |
| 7 | (pause) |
| 8 | I was with Him when He taught us to live happily with the burdens of |
| 9 | this life—to love those who hate us, to build our lives on Him, rather |
| 10 | than on the quicksand of this world. |
| 11 | (pause) |
| 12 | I was with Him when He washed out leprosy and demons and |
| 13 | blindness. I was there when He raised the dead, when He walked on |
| 14 | water, and fed thousands by blessing a handful of bread and fish. |
| 15 | (with awe) |
| 16 | I was with Him on that mountain when He was changed before our |
| 17 | eyes—when His face shone like the sun, and we had to shield our eyes |
| 18 | from His holiness. |
| 19 | (heavily; darkly) |
| 20 | And I was at the foot of the cross with His mother that black day |
| 21 | when He was nailed to the tree. I watched His face as the weight of |
| 22 | mankind's sin was heaped on Him, and His heavenly Father had to |
| 23 | turn His face away from His only Son. |
| 24 | (pause; brightening) |
| 25 | But I was also at His tomb— |
| 26 | (turning to Naomi) |
| 27 | —and found it empty. For Jesus had risen from the dead. No grave |
| 28 | could hold the Son of God. Yes, Naomi, the man who was born in |
| 29 | Bethlehem was fully man. And the baby born in that stable was also |
| 30 | all of God. |
| 31 | |
| 32 | Naomi |
| 33 | (sobered) |
| 34 | Even if that is true Why? |
| 35 | |

| 1 | John |
|----|---|
| 2 | (thoughtfully) |
| 3 | From man's perspective it was an impossible life. But for God, anything |
| 4 | is possible—even the salvation of those who rejected His Son. |
| 5 | (pointedly) |
| 6 | And those who still do. |
| 7 | |
| 8 | |
| 9 | |
| 10 | |
| 11 | |
| 12 | |
| 13 | |
| 14 | |
| 15 | |
| 16 | |
| 17 | |
| 18 | |
| 19 | |
| 20 | |
| 21 | |
| 22 | |
| 23 | |
| 24 | |
| 25 | |
| 26 | |
| 27 | |
| 28 | |
| 29 | |
| 30 | |
| 31 | |
| 32 | |
| 33 | |
| 34 | |

| Scene Five |
|---|
| |
| Naomi |
| (subdued; soberly) |
| You're very persuasive, John. You make a convincing argument. |
| John |
| (quickly; innocently) |
| Don't misunderstand, Naomi. I am not trying to win an argument. |
| (firmly) |
| I am telling you what I know to be true. The rest is up to you. |
| Naomi |
| |
| (after some thought) I have always believed in the gods. But I have not always believed. |
| I have always believed in the gods. But I have not always believed them. |
| (ruminitively) |
| "Salvation." What is that? What does that really mean? Life is hard, and |
| the idea that some mysterious all-powerful being from high overhead |
| would be of any help to me, well—it has just never worked out that |
| way. They must have other, more important things on their minds. |
| (pause) |
| After my husband left there was no one to look out for me. Certainly |
| none of the many gods I grew up with. I had to look out for myself. |
| (proudly) |
| And I haven't done a bad job of it. |
| (challenging John) |
| You say this Jesus is better than my old gods. All right, what does He |
| have to offer if I believe in Him? What's in it for me? |
| |
| John |
| (disappointed; shaking his head sadly) |
| I'm sorry, Naomi. If you can say that, then I've done a poor job |
| explaining Him to you. |
| |

| 1 | (pause) |
|-----|---|
| 2 | Let me try once more— |
| 3 | , |
| 4 | Naomi |
| 5 | (groaning) |
| 6 | No more! Please. Please. No more stories. |
| 7 | |
| 8 | John |
| 9 | I'll be brief. |
| 10 | (after some thought) |
| 11 | One day we were crossing the Sea of Galilee in Peter's boat. All of us |
| 12 | were there—including Jesus. Then a storm came up, quickly. It happens |
| 13 | some times on that old lake. Out of nowhere. It was a terrible squall. |
| 14 | The boat was being tossed about like a toy. We called for the Master, |
| 15 | thinking He might pray for us—pray for our safety. At first we couldn't |
| 16 | find Him, but then Andrew found him in the stern—sound asleep! |
| 17 | (pause) |
| 18 | When we woke Him, He scolded us—not for waking Him, but for our |
| 19 | fear—our lack of faith. |
| 20 | (with awe) |
| 21 | Then, with just a simple, quiet word, He calmed the storm. He actually |
| 22 | scolded the storm, as if it were an unruly child. And it stopped. It just |
| 23 | stopped. Perfectly calm. |
| 24 | |
| 25 | Naomi |
| 26 | (wearily) |
| 27 | Your point? |
| 28 | |
| 29 | John |
| 30 | (emphatically) |
| 31 | Don't you understand yet who it is I have been telling you about? Who |
| 32 | else but God—the true God, the one God—can do such a thing! He |
| 33 | holds in His hand power over nature, this world, people—everything! |
| 34 | He is Lord over all. |
| 2 - | |

| 1 | (more subdued) |
|-----|--|
| 2 | Naomi, we all have storms in our life. You do. I do. Life tosses us about, |
| 3 | leaving us shaken and bruised. But with faith in Jesus comes a peace |
| 4 | that brings us through those storms. |
| 5 | (beat) |
| 6 | A peace that we find only in the God who holds such power. |
| 7 | (pause) |
| 8 | My people have an ancient prayer that includes this: "Even though I |
| 9 | walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I fear no evil, for You |
| 10 | are with me, Your rod and Your staff—they comfort me." |
| 11 | |
| 12 | Naomi |
| 13 | (flatly) |
| 14 | I already have friends. |
| 15 | |
| 16 | John |
| 17 | (gently) |
| 18 | Oh, Naomi. He is so much more than that. |
| 19 | (shrugging) |
| 20 | I can tell you that faith in Jesus means eternal life with Him in heaven. |
| 21 | I can tell you that it means His Spirit comes to dwell within you. I |
| 22 | can tell you that He will radically change your life—make you a new |
| 23 | person, inside and out. |
| 24 | (beat) |
| 25 | But when the angel came to Joseph, to tell him that Mary, his |
| 26 | betrothed, was already pregnant with the Child, the angel told him, |
| 27 | "She shall bear a Son, and they shall call His name Immanuel." |
| 28 | |
| 29 | Naomi |
| 30 | (mildly interested) |
| 31 | What does that mean—"Immanuel"? |
| 32 | |
| 33 | |

| 1 | John |
|----|---|
| 2 | (smiling warmly) |
| 3 | It means "God with us." It means Jesus is always with you. He is all of |
| 4 | God, and He is with you. You don't have to wait for heaven. He is with |
| 5 | you every day, every hour. |
| 6 | (beat) |
| 7 | He is with me. |
| 8 | (mischievously) |
| 9 | He is the one who gets me through the daily storm—of living under |
| 10 | your roof. |
| 11 | |
| 12 | Naomi |
| 13 | (scowling) |
| 14 | You're impossible. |
| 15 | |
| 16 | John |
| 17 | (smiling) |
| 18 | We'd better not start that again. |
| 19 | (more seriously, but not too heavy) |
| 20 | My friend, I have faith that there will come a day when the name of |
| 21 | Jesus will mean something to you. There will come a day when the |
| 22 | Spirit will speak, and you will listen—and respond. |
| 23 | (beat) |
| 24 | For that day I will keep praying. |
| 25 | |
| 26 | Naomi |
| 27 | (after some thought) |
| 28 | Fair enough. |
| 29 | (laughing? or still scowling good-naturedly?) |
| 30 | Now c'mon you crazy old man. Supper will be ready soon. |
| 31 | |
| 32 | They exit. |

HIS COMPANY SCRIPTS

Use & Copyright Notice

Permission is hereby granted for copies to be made of this His Company script so long as the following conditions are met:

- All copies will include the script title page with copyright notice.
- The total number of copies per script will not exceed number of characters, plus director, plus any necessary technical personnel.
- Copies will not be made for, nor distributed to, other churches or individuals. Please recommend that they obtain their own free copy at the His Company web site (http://Dlampel.com/).
- The script, or copies thereof, will not be sold or leased to others.

His Company scripts, while distributed at no charge, are copyrighted. We appreciate your cooperation in following these few guidelines. If you have any questions regarding the use of this script, please contact David S. Lampel at 515-462-1971, or leave a message at our web site.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Our first priority is to ensure that our resources get into the hands of those who wish to use them—and always for free. We do not charge for any of our resources. Our first and most important payment comes from the Lord—in the privilege we have of serving in His name.

But if the Holy Spirit is speaking to you, and you would like to contribute to this work, we want you to know that your gift will be very much appreciated, and will be put to work covering our expenses. To express our appreciation, we have prepared some special "thank-you" gifts for those who contribute. Visit our Contribution Page, at http://dlampel.com/contrib.php, for details.

UPHOLDING YOUR PERFORMANCE

We would like to hear from you when performances of this His Company script have been scheduled, so that we (and others) can be lifting you and your production up to the throne in prayer. Post as much information as you can about your production at the "Contact Us" link at our web site—and may the Lord use this resource for His glory.
